

Overview of current sanctions measures concerning United States

Last updated: December 31, 2024

The information provided on the Interactive Sanctions Map and this document does not, and is not intended to, constitute legal advice; instead, all information, content, and materials available on this site are for general informational purposes only.

Table of Contents

1. United Nations (UN) sanctions concerning United States	1
2. United States (US) sanctions concerning United States	1
3. European Union (EU) sanctions concerning United States	1
4. United Kingdom (UK) sanctions concerning United States	2
5. Canada sanctions concerning United States	2

1. United Nations (UN) sanctions concerning United States

None

2. United States (US) sanctions concerning United States

None

3. European Union (EU) sanctions concerning United States

The EU does not have any sanctions in place against the United States, which is one of the EU's largest trading partners. However, EU regulations prohibit EU entities from complying with certain U.S. sanctions laws that the EU considers to have extraterritorial effect.

SOURCE:

<https://www.sanctionsmap.eu/#/main/details/38/?search=%7B%22value%22:%22%22,%22searchType%22:%7B%7D%7D>

4. United Kingdom (UK) sanctions concerning United States

The United Kingdom has not imposed any sanctions against the United States, but its laws do prohibit UK persons from complying with U.S. sanctions in cases where the UK does not impose similar sanctions.

5. Canada sanctions concerning United States

Like the European Union, Canada has in place a blocking statute that prohibits Canadian companies and individuals from complying with U.S. sanctions laws that are inconsistent with Canadian law.

SOURCE: <https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/f-29/index.html>